

"LIE PASSED;" BERGDOLL BRIBE CASE IS ADJOURNED ABRUPTLY

France Asks For Safeguarding Of Troop Movement

SLACKER'S BROTHER IS CAUSE OF AN EXCITING SCENE DURING HEARING

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.—The Bergdoll investigation committee's session broke up suddenly today after Charles A. Braun, a witness, had called Representative Johnson, Democrat, Kentucky, of the committee, a "liar" and the latter made an attempt to reach the witness.

Members of the committee and spectators seized Mr. Johnson before he could reach Braun. The latter was taken from the room by the sergeant-at-arms of the house and Chairman Peters announced an adjournment.

The trouble arose while Mr. Johnson was cross-examining Mr. Braun, alleging that he was refusing to answer questions. Unsatisfied by answers he received to numerous questions, Mr. Johnson finally looked the witness in the eye and said:

"You know you are not telling the truth."

"You are a liar," Braun replied, the rest of his statement being lost in the uproar that followed as the Kentuckian plunged toward the witness.

A confidential advisor of the Bergdolls, as the sergeant-at-arms escorted him out of the room to board the first train for home, excused by the chairman from further appearance.

"I would like to get hold of your brother," somebody shouted in the confusion as he went out. "Is this committee going to let that hater of

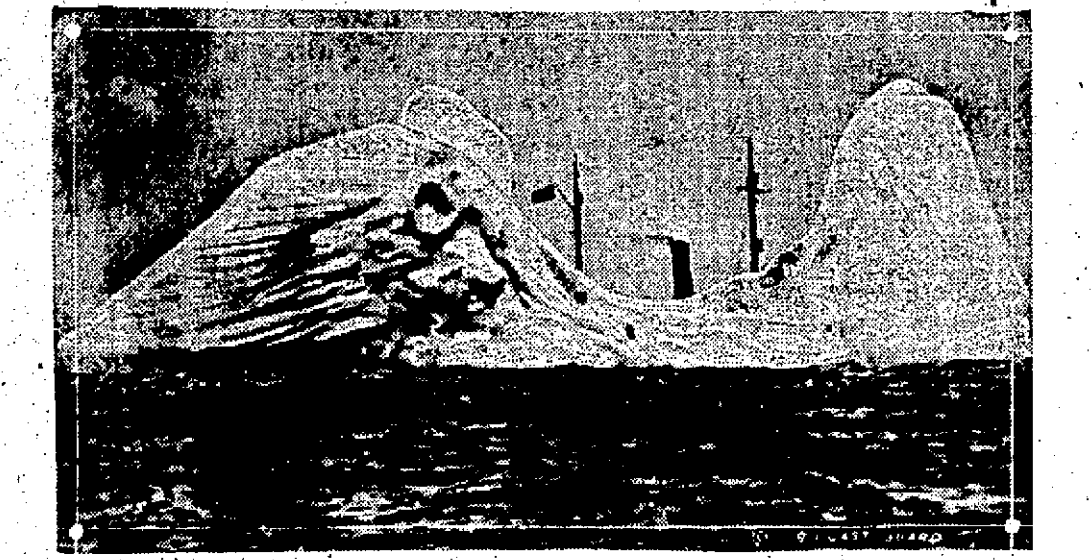

REBELS WIN BIG BATTLE IN MOROCCO

MADRID, July 23.—Spanish forces which suffered a reverse at the hands of rebellious tribesmen in the Melillan zone of Morocco have received reinforcements and repulsed all subsequent attacks against them, according to the latest news received here this evening from Morocco.

The newspapers say the fighting continued yesterday, the enemy having received reinforcements and that the Spanish troops, both peninsula and native, offered stubborn resistance. Rumors are current here that General Silvestre, commander of the Spanish forces at Melilla, committed suicide finding

One of the numerous icebergs located by U. S. coast patrol boats, showing the top of a patrol boat back of it.

There are more icebergs now menacing ships in northern routes than ever before, according to navigation officials. These dangerous mountains of ice are coming farther south also. Scientists say that the worldwide heat wave is responsible for the increased number, the high temperature causing the huge ice floes in Arctic regions to break up.

ANOTHER DIVISION WILL BE SENT TO SILESIA AT ONCE; ENGLAND NOTIFIED

PARIS, July 23.—Premier Briand, following a meeting of the council of ministers at Rambouillet yesterday, has dispatched a telegram to Berlin requesting that the German government take all necessary steps to insure safe conduct through Germany of a new division of French troops, which it is said in official circles will be ordered to Silesia within a few hours.

This morning's newspapers give considerable prominence to the council meeting. It is understood that the Silesian question was the chief subject under discussion, and although the official communique fails to say so, the newspapers declare unqualified approval was given the premier's position after he had explained it in great detail.

The ministers are reported to feel that France should not retreat an inch from the determination to send reinforcements to Upper Silesia, despite opposition to such a move by David Lloyd George, the British prime minister.

Instructions were late last night to the French ambassador in London requesting him to tell the British government that France considers it useless for the allies to establish a Silesian boundary without providing sufficient troops to enforce the provisions, and adding that France intends, to dispatch another division without waiting for action by the other allies.

Premier Briand is said in some quarters to hold the view that England will consent to a postponement of the supreme council meeting until the middle of August, when the reinforcements will have arrived and the experts have completed a detailed report of conditions in the Silesian industrial area, thus allowing the council to reach a satisfactory compromise, probably based on suggestions by Count Storza, former Italian minister of foreign affairs.

Offer Fiscal Autonomy For All Of Ireland

LONDON, July 23.—The outstanding feature of the government's Irish peace proposals to Eamonn DeValera is a concession of fiscal autonomy, it was stated on high authority here today. The position of Ulster is simply secured.

Smuts Going To Ireland

LONDON, July 23.—General Jan C. Smuts, the South African premier, is expected to leave London for Ireland early next week, probably Monday, to place his services at the disposal of both Eamonn DeValera, the Republican leader, and Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, during their critical consideration of the Irish peace proposals made by Premier Lloyd George.

This statement was made today in a quarter close to the South African statesman.

In circles which are closely observing the developments of the Irish situation, much satisfaction is expressed at the prospect of General Smuts' return into the negotiations in the manner indicated. This is particularly the case in view of the persistent reports that the British prime minister's offer, submitted to Mr. DeValera Tuesday, includes a plan for dominion rule for

Two Oil Wells Still Burning

MEXICO CITY, July 23.—Fire in the Amatlan oil fields, which broke out Wednesday and caused property damage estimated at several million dollars, has been reduced to two wells which still are burning fiercely. Reports from Tampico say the conflagration is unlikely to spread further.

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 23.—Four thousand men working at top speed in six-hour relays, are striving to prevent further spread of the oil fire which since last Wednesday has caused damage amounting to several million dollars in the Amatlan oil field of Mexico, according to advices received by Pittsburgh oil companies operating in the field.

Twenty-four boilers have been set up not far from the fire, and steam is being forced into the oil as it spurts from the casing. An encouraging feature, the message said, was that the draining of the oil was in such a direction that there was little danger to the main part of the field.

The fire fighters also are driving tunnels to reach the wells under ground, far below the flames, and shut off the supply of fuel to the fire above. These tunnels, which are about six feet square, and must be some 250 feet long, are being pushed forward at the rate of fifteen feet every day.

Only one pipe line has been affected by the fire so far, the Island Oil and Transport Company.

German John D. In Auto Crash

BERLIN, July 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Hugo Stinnes, the German capitalist, suffered concussion of the brain and a severe cut in the forehead when an automobile in which he was motoring in the vicinity of Wiesbaden, Prussia, was overturned today. Stinnes was accompanied by his daughter and grand-daughter, both of whom were injured. He was taken to Wiesbaden, where he received treatment and is reported to be resting easily.

Third Victim Gets Tar Coat

LUFKIN, TEXAS, July 23.—George Lee, a service car driver, last night, became the third victim within a week of masked bands. He was unloaded from an automobile in the heart of the city about 10 o'clock, clothed only with a generous coat of tar and feathers. He is about 30 years old and married. As in the similar cases of Ben Wiley and Sherwood Wilson, this week, the identity of the masked men is unknown.

OHIO ROADS FIGHTING TO KEEP UP FREIGHT RATES

COLUMBUS, O., July 23.—Eleven Ohio railroads today filed a petition with the state public utilities commission asking for a rehearing and the setting aside of an order of the commission June 28, and served on them July 5, ordering rates for carrying slag reduced.

Slag is an important road building material, and the cost of hauling it is an item of much importance in the state's highway construction program.

The petition filed by the railroads assert that the "order was made without proper reference to the financial conditions of the carriers."

The eleven lines, together with the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railroad, were named defendants recently by the Wellston Slag Co., complaining against rates. In the meantime, the D. T. & I. has announced a reduction of 20 per cent in all commodity rates. It is not among the roads represented by today's petition.

The battle in the state to bring freight rates down culminated the aid of coal companies also today. They have complained to the commission against the rates imposed by the carriers on coal.

The eleven roads seeking to have slag rates remain at present levels are: the C. & St. L., Chesapeake & Ohio, Erie, Hocking Valley, Kanawha and Michigan, N. & W., Pennsylvania, P. C. & St. L., T. & O. C., and the Zanesville and Western.

Take Man From Jail; Hang Him

HATTIESBURG, MISS., July 23.—Casey Jones, white, recently convicted of the murder of Mrs. J. S. Mosley, and sentenced to be hanged July 18, but whose case was pending an appeal before the state supreme court, was taken from the county jail by a mob early this morning and hanged in the court house yard.

Greeks Are Advancing

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 23.—The Greeks now are advancing on the Brussa front. They dislodged the Turks from several fortified positions and have reached Incanu. Thus far the Turks have retreated in the face of the Greek advance.

Owing to the successful development of the Greek offensive on the Tishlik front 110 miles south of Brussa, it is possible the Turks will be forced to abandon the Brussa and Isni fronts. Otherwise they will run the risk of having their communications cut.

Many Germans Come To U. S.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.—A total of 29,901 aliens were naturalized in June, of whom 6,153 or 21.58 per cent were Germans, the department of labor announced today. Austrians naturalized number 4,014; Italians, 3,508 and nationals of Great Britain, 3,313. The smallest number, 19, was from Spain.

Nut Cause Of Derailment

SCRANTON, PA., July 23.—Investigation was being directed today by E. M. Rice, vice president and general manager, into the wreck of the Lackawanna limited on the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad at Glenburn, north of here, yesterday afternoon. Two persons are dead and more than a score injured as a result of the accident.

Examination of the road bed, railroad officials said, showed the derailment was probably caused by an inch and a half nut dropped or placed on the rail. It was found after the train left the track and its imprint was discovered on the rail.

Booze Craft Is Captured

Huge New Ship In Service To South America

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 23.—Acting upon information furnished over the telephone by some unknown person, the New Haven police today surprised a band of 18 men unloading Scotch whiskey from the small auxiliary sword fishing boat, Jennie T. captured them at the points of revolvers seized the vessel and confiscated about three hundred cases of liquor, three more trucks and three touring cars.

The confiscated liquor is appraised at about $75,000.

Three well known New Haven residents, J. Harman Bronson, Pearl P. Sperry, Jr., and William Beecher, were among the 18 men taken into custody. All were held without bail pending a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Lynch.

Federal officials are endeavoring to determine if the cases of whiskey, most of which bore markings that indicated they came from Bermuda, had formed part of the cargo of the British schooner, Pocumoke, which left Nassau, Bahamas Islands, with a large quantity of liquor consigned to Canada, but put in at Atlantic City a few days ago with part of the shipment missing.

Cashier Is Back State Assumes Charge Of Bank

COLUMBUS, O., July 23.—The state banking department today was making a thorough investigation of the affairs of the Marshfield bank, of New Marshfield, Athens county.

The state took over the affairs of the bank, a private institution, this morning upon the request of the owners, following the mysterious disappearance early this week of Cashier William Sturgill.

Soon after the state took charge of the bank, Sturgill appeared at the bank. According to reports received here by H. E. Scott, state superintendent of banks, Sturgill resumed his place in the bank and was assisting the examiners in their investigation of the books.

The bank yesterday issued a statement saying depositors would lose no money. According to its statement of June 30, 1921, the bank had a capital of $20,000; total resources of $201,530; deposits of $132,327.50; loans of $144,666.45, and undivided profits of $21,000.

Examiners were unable to enter the bank's vault until Cashier Sturgill returned this morning, as he was the only person who knew the combination.

Two Die In Wreck

SCRANTON, PA.—Two persons are dead as a result of injuries and a score or more are injured as a result of a wreck when the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Limited express train from New York to Buffalo was derailed and went over an embankment at Glenburn, 10 miles north of here.

Tear Gas Real Riot Stopper

NEW YORK, July 23.—Tear gas bombs broke up a "riot" at Fort Totten, yesterday, staged by two companies of the New York police department's riot battalion, in a demonstration to prove the ease with which a mob may be dispersed without revolvers or night sticks.

After 18 bombs had been thrown, the policemen, with tears rolling down their cheeks, and gasping for breath, bent a hasty retreat.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.—Weather predictions for the week beginning Monday, are:

C. T. Hatcher Is Re-Engaged

C. T. Hatcher will pilot the destinies of the Waverly schools again next year. The Board of Education, at a meeting attended by only three members, received his acceptance of their offer of a reduced salary. Mr. Hatcher was paid an emolument of twenty-four hundred dollars last year, but when the board found itself about thirty-five hundred dollars in debt at the end of the school year, a drastic cut in all salaries was determined. Hatcher was offered his old place back at eighteen hundred. He is visiting down in Noble county so it took some time for his letter to get back but it was here last meeting. It is understood that all the grade teachers have accepted the prices put on their services by the board and that there will be no changes for next year below the high school. In the high school there are several positions open including the principalship. — Waverly Republican-Herald.

Auto Club Membership

The Portsmouth Automobile Club now has a membership of 250. Directors of the club met Friday at the Chamber of Commerce rooms and decided to postpone until September the visit of C. C. Jones, Secretary of the Ohio State Automobile Association, who was to come here for an address to have been delivered at a public meeting this month. On account of so many auto owners being out of the city on vacations it was thought best to postpone the meeting until September. — Waverly Republican-Herald.

BRIDGE IS CLOSED; TO BE REPAIRED

The county bridge over the Scioto river between Waverly and Gregg's Hill is closed to all traffic. The commissioners put the kibosh on it for the first time of the week. This bridge has been considered unsafe for quite a while. The commissioners are advertising for contracts for repairs. — Waverly Republican-Herald.

AIRSHIP DISABLED; PILOT LANDS IN PIT OF VOLCANO

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—When his engine suddenly stopped 15,000 feet in the air above remote Crater Lake, Oregon, Thursday, Raymond G. Fisher, forest service pilot, was forced to land on a tiny island in the lake, which is in the pit of an extinct volcano with walls one thousand feet high surrounding it. Forestry officials announced today.

The plane was not damaged in the descent, but Fisher upon examination found four of the spark plugs of the engine broken. Using the wireless set, with which the machine was equipped, he succeeded in getting in touch with another forest service plane. This second flier hastened to Medford, Oregon, and obtained new spark plugs for Fisher's plane. Arriving at the lake, however, the rescue pilot found it impossible for another plane to land on the island, or apparently to get the plugs to Fisher. Other forest service planes came up and sets of spark plugs were sent to earth by means of parachutes. Hunting with a torch Thursday night Fisher found one of the parachutes and yesterday morning repaired his machine and "took off" from the island, reaching the forest service plane base at Medford safely.

HERO'S BODY ARRIVES AT GREENUP

The body of Ross Richards, Greenup, Ky., young man who died of wounds received in action in France arrived at Greenup Friday morning and funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon. Richards was born and reared at Greenup and was 23 years of age.

son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Richards who are well known here. Richards was a member of the famous Rainbow Division and was wounded Oct. 11, 1918, while fighting in the Argonne sector. He died Oct. 13 in a field hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Covert of 722 Third street, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Colegrove of Court street and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hawkins of Logan street and friends of this city will attend the funeral Sunday.

Two Stillers Arrested; Guilt Is Admitted

Police executed warrants issued from Municipal court by taking into custody early Saturday morning Robert Lowther, 29 years old, of 1013 Mill street, and Walter Hughes, 41 years old, of 1015 Mill street, on charges of unlawfully manufacturing intoxicating liquor. The information on which the warrants were based was secured several days ago when officers visited the homes of the men, but Lowther was sick with smallpox and could not be brought to jail. Both admitted guilt when arraigned the cases for sentence and in the meantime the prisoners were ordered detained at the city jail in default of bond.

Members Of Battery C Get First Pay

Members of Battery C, 135th Field Artillery, received their first pay checks last night at the semi-weekly drill session. Members of the Combat Train, who will receive their checks later, had to stand and watch the Battery members draw their checks and sign the pay-roll.

The Combat Train was organized several weeks later than the Battery and their pay checks are held up accordingly. The drill last night showed that the last units of the National Guard are fast becoming auto shape. Captain Luther Thompson, of the Battery and Captain Guy Blair of the Combat Train have received orders from Fort Benjamin Harrison outlining the work the units are expected to complete before reaching camp.

Farmers To Discuss Seed Wheat Problems

A meeting of interest to all farmers in Scioto county will be held at the Court House next Thursday afternoon, July 28, at 2 o'clock standard time. The seed wheat problem for this fall will be discussed from all angles. The yield of wheat this season is low on the average and the quality is poor.

The Farm Bureau has received a number of inquiries as to seed wheat and this meeting for next Thursday has been called by the Farm Corps Committee of the Farm Bureau.

W. E. Hanger, corps specialist from Ohio University will be here to make tests of wheat seed. The test will be made for any farmers bringing in two quart of seed. He will advise as to whether or not it is fit for seed. Farmers who think they have good seed and those who think they have poor seed should bring in samples of the seed so that it may be properly tested and a recommendation made.

Ironton To Get New Laundry

IRONTON, July 23.—Ironton may soon see the establishment of a new steam laundry and cleaning business here. Huntington parties have taken a lease on a piece of property on south

SHIPPING BOARD TAKES CHARGE OF 9 STEAMERS

NEW YORK, July 23.—Agents of the United States shipping board waited today for the arrival of four big steamers chartered to the United States Mail Steamship Company. In order that they might add them to five seized in a series of harbor raids last night.

The steamers seized last night were among the finest of United States merchant marine and all were former German liners. They are the George Washington, which President Wilson used on his trip to Versailles peace conference; the America, the Susquehanna, President Grant and Azamoonah. Their aggregate value is said to be $25,000,000.

The seizures resulted, according to Elmer Schlesinger, counsel for the shipping board, from failure of the United States Mail Steamship Company to pay rentals aggregating about $400,000 and because of certain other alleged laxity by the company in carrying out its contract with the shipping board.

English Editor Says England Is Disarming

NEW YORK, July 23.—Lord Northcliffe, editor of the Irish question on his arrival today from England, said: "We are very hopeful, but it must be remembered that a problem so difficult, involving years old can not be settled in seven days."

He declared President Harding's invitation to the great powers for a conference to discuss disarmament had been enthusiastically received in Europe. He thought the president's move a very wise one.

Witnesses Summoned To The Sheriff's Office To Testify

There was considerable activity about the county jail office throughout the day Saturday when a number of witnesses, in response to subpoenas, appeared before State Prohibition Inspectors Romanis and Hutchinson to testify in connection with an investigation as to the alleged lack of enforcement of the prohibition laws by certain officers in this city, it is said.

The investigation is being conducted with much secrecy, the testimony being taken behind closed doors at the sheriff's office. It was intimated that the probe is being conducted on the trail of the local police department with Chief Joseph S. Distel as the main target of the attack.

This was strongly indicated when Sergeant Floyd Shookley, Patrolman Stanley Schroeder, Judge W. H. Sprague and Clerk Harry Dunham were called for examination during the day.

Illinois Scandal Airing To Be Resumed Tuesday

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., July 23.—Illinois today began her three day intermission in the greatest political drama of her history—the Small-Sterling-Curtis indictment for embezzlement and fraud growing out of the Sangamon county grand jury's investigation of the state treasury. Until next Tuesday at least, the case remains in status quo.

Governor Small, temporarily immune from arrest, is expected to remain defiant toward Sangamon county authorities, who issued warrants for his arrest.

PLANNING TO MAKE LUCASVILLE FAIR BEST EVER; FINE RACES ARE ASSURED

Plans are rapidly going forward for the opening of the Big County Fair at Lucasville the second week in August and the annual exhibit from all indications will be bigger and better than ever this year.

The fair board at a meeting held Friday made arrangements to put the pretty grounds in condition for the good show and report the prospects good for exhibits in every department. The premium list has been increased several hundred dollars and the racing cards, always a feature of the fair, with purses totalling more than $2500, promises to furnish some excellent amusement for lovers of the sport.

P. H. Harsh, of this city, will be in charge of the speed ring which is being put in good condition for the speed events. He has received assurance that there will be a big lot of fast starters entered to compete for the purses.

A big list of free first-class attractions have been booked by the board at big expense, chief among which are the auto polo teams. Motor car driving on paved speedway or dirt track is a mild sport compared to auto polo, which will be exemplified in all its phases.

It is a game that overflows with vim and hazard, abounding not only in fast driving, but in the piloting of the stripped cars into and out of confusion, such as the driver on the race course seldom experiences. Auto Polo is, in fact, one continuous thrill. It is not uncommon for one car to smash into the other, spilling the occupants, threatening the lives of the players, yet auto polo scores far less fatalities than does motor racing on a track. The game abounds in excitement and fun for the spectators, but genuine hard work for the players. As a sport, which can be played either indoors or outdoors where there is ample room for the cars to cut their capers, it is a twentieth century pastime, that is prolific in the spirit of the times.

Nothing, in fact, is being left undone by the board for the amusement and comfort of the thousands of persons that are planning to attend the annual exhibit. New coin turnstiles are being installed at the south end of the grounds and the parking facilities have been increased by the acquiring of additional land nearby to take care of the many thousands of automobiles and other vehicles. Parking in this space will be free and special officers will be on duty to guard the vehicles against theft.

The admission will be the same as last year, fifty cents for adults and twenty-five cents for children.

Body Of Corporal Anderson Arrives; Funeral Tomorrow

The body of Corporal James Ernest Anderson, aged 26, who was killed in action in France in October 18, arrived over the N. & W. here last night and was conveyed to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Anderson, of Morton Hill, near Fullerton.

The funeral services will be conducted from the home Sunday morning at 10:30 and in doubt will be largely attended. Anderson, who formerly worked in the Irving Drew shoe factory here, enlisted in the war, received his training at Camp Taylor, called for France in May 1918 and was killed in October 1918.

Train Victim Laid To Rest

The funeral services for the late Jesse Fleming who was run down and killed by a C. & O. train at Siloam, Thursday, were conducted from the Siloam church Friday afternoon. The last rites were largely attended and were in charge of Walter Bachy of this city. Interment took place in the Mt. Ebo cemetery near Siloam.

Body Arrives From France

The body of Private Sylvester Nichols of Pine Grove, near Schultz, Ky., who was killed in action while bravely defending his flag in France, arrived at Fullerton last night and was removed to the Morton morgue, where it will remain until relatives arrange for the funeral services. Private Nichols formerly worked in Portsmouth and was well known here.

Is Now Full Fledged Druggist

A druggist's certificate has been granted to Norman K. Hyatt by the State Board of Pharmacy, the young man passing the examination held at Cedar Point recently with flying colors. Mr. Hyatt, formerly lived here, being a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hyatt and is a graduate of the local High School and of State University. He has located in the Capital City.

To Talk On "The City"

The city will be the topic of the sermon delivered by Nathaniel E. Butler, pastor of Trinity church next Sunday morning. Usually the city is thought of as the source of evil things. While all that is evil is to be found in the city, everything good is found there also. Unless Christianity can win the cities of America, then our Christian civilization is doomed. Ambassador Bryce told some American business men in an address in London a short time ago, "The conspicuous weakness of American democracy is in the government of your cities. Go back," he said, "to them, but not to make failures of free institutions. You cannot go on for 25 years longer as you have been going."

The question Mr. Butler hopes to answer in his sermon is, Can Christianity save our cities? Mrs. Horace Dewey will sing at the service. In the evening the pastor will speak on the topic of gratitude. Mrs. Vaughn Finney, the organist of the church will play several selections on the pipe organ before the opening of the evening service. The choir will render a sacred cantata on Sunday evening July 31st. It will be to the profit of all to hear this. The public is invited. The services at Trinity are on new time at 10:30 and 8:00 o'clock.

RIVER NEWS

The Ohio river showed a pool stage of 12.2 feet in the Portsmouth district Saturday morning when the stream was falling slowly. The only boat movement Saturday was the Chris Green, which passed up at 10 a. m. for Huntington and the packet is due here tonight on the return trip, departing early Sunday for Cincinnati.

Incomparably the best epitaph for Eli James Murray, greatest of dictionary makers, might be taken from one of the conversations between Johnson and Boswell. In old age Boswell said to Johnson, apropos of the dictionary: "You did not know what you were undertaking." "Yes, sir," was the answer, "I know very well what I was undertaking—and very well how to do it—and have done it very well."

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, home, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—We are daily readers of your column and like your advice to others so decided to write you. We are girls 17 and 18 years of age and we are always together. Now Dolly, about 8 months ago we started to go with two boys, both named Robert. We liked them very much and they seemed to like us but for reasons unknown to us they quit us about a month ago. We would like very much to gain their friendship again but our pride will not let us ask them why they treat us in this manner. Please tell us what we can do? Also, Dolly, some of our neighbors carried news from one to the other and when we quit they seemed to be pleased and are not trying to get them to go with other girls. Tell us what to do for they seemed to be our best friends when we were with them but enemies to our backs. Should we drop our girl friends? When we quit our friends should we have been kinder to them? And was it right to keep the pictures? They have never returned anything of ours. Should we ask for them or not?

PALS.

You are treating the matter too seriously. Forget the silly affair and content yourselves with your other friends. If the boys were really interested in you, they would pay no attention to gossip. If you are sure the girls haven't been true friends, don't be so intimate with them, but never fail to treat them cordially. So long as they gave you their pictures, it is right to keep them. Don't make a practice of exchanging keepsakes, and you won't have to worry about them.

Dear Dolly—Will you please print in Saturday night's Times the names of the best months to get married in and signs of each one.

BLOXIDE.

Sorry, I cannot enlighten you as to any superstition pertaining to that. Some will tell you it means bad luck any time. Choose the time of year you like best. If that would make any difference.

Thank You—That certainly sounds serious to me, but my dear, you never can tell. He may like you very much as a good comrade, but will not let it go any further. That shows that he respects you a little bit. Keep on being good friends with him, and in time, if things come out all right, you will know how to meet it.

Dear Miss Wise—Will you kindly advise me through the columns of your paper at your convenience, a method by which I may soften the bristles my shaving brush and greatly oblige.

JOHN.

Use a teaspoon of household ammonia in a little warm water and soak for a while.

Green Travelers—You can get the pillows at a small cost from the porter. Tip him whatever you care to.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

CHERRY'S NEW IDEA
The young wife's time became more and more taken up with her work. "I do hope that you will always manage to keep your Sundays free at least," Cherry said Ned as they were sitting in the garden some time later in the evening.

"Sundays free? Why of course I shall, silly boy," answered Ned. "That is the only day that we really see each other, Neddy, and I look forward to it each week just so eagerly. Dear, dear we do seem like two entire strangers to each other from what we were when we met in Chicago, don't we?"

"Get your life we do and we are. That's what's worse," said Ned in a surly voice. "Everything seems to turn out just the opposite from what a fellow plans, somehow, but as long as you are perfectly happy, lady-bird, that's all that matters very much."

"Happy—and yet—well, I can't exactly say that. I seldom can, especially. I just feel, Ned, and that's bad enough at times."

"I'll say it is," Ned said. "But you know, Ned, that I could start a shop of my own right here in Webster at any time and be a tremendous success. Mr. Hamlen knows this and it's bothered him considerably, for he is always trying to find out whether I'm satisfied and whether I'm going to stay with his firm or not. And it was too funny this afternoon, when Mr. Duval turned to me and said,

"Why are you not running your own shop, madame?" Arthur Hamlen's face went quite red and he shook his head and coughed several times as if he wanted the subject changed. Of course I knew long ago that is just what they are afraid of and it would mean their shutting up their millinery department, my dear."

"Well of all things, as if you could run a place by yourself. Why it would be worse than ever. You'd be away all day long and I'd never have a moment alone with you. Nice life for a fellow I don't think," snorted Ned from his chair.

"Yes, but I think of all the extra money you and I and that little house of dreams of ours would have, dear," said Cherry wisely. "We could use all the extra pennies. Ned, for the first year or so, after we start that well enough. Besides I'd have plenty of time even if I had my own place of business. I'd keep a girl there to relieve me. Make all the hats myself, of course, but I need not necessarily stand and sell them myself, all day long. That's the joy of being a 'boss,' my dear."

"Well, the day you decide to do this let me know, and I'll ship to China or India, like Dad did before me. Maybe he was right after all. A man can only stand so much," said Ned solemnly.

This is another of the charges made by the agnostic, Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll. Let us never descend to calling him "Bob Ingersoll." That sounds too much like an epithet. It is neither dignified nor Christian. Religion can well afford to be courteous to an opponent. Mr. Ingersoll was irreverent and at many times scurrilous, as well as mistaken; but I try to believe that he tried to be sincere. He mistook the gross caricatures of Christianity which some of his own chief promoters left in history, for their creeds and deeds, for genuine reality. In the same way he was misled by his literalism, which many Bible readers themselves still cherish, into denouncing, in most scathing terms, the one-sided and exaggerated conception that it gave him of Delity. He enjoyed shocking his audience by referring to some of the blood-curdling cruelties practiced by the Israelites in war, and with their feelings thus aroused, exclaiming with cheap bravado, "I hate Jehovah!"

These atrocities were the common customs of all nations of those days. The narrators of them in the Old Testament believed that Jehovah commanded them. In His people, because they ascribed, in their imperfect conceptions of God, all things to His will, irrespective of their moral character, I attempt no defense of Colonel Ingersoll in his mistaken interpretation of the Old Testament records on that point. Many well-meaning Christians to this day cherish literalism, and their misinterpretations easily afford room for an apology for our opponents who do the same.

Colonel Ingersoll's strong moral sense, unsophisticated by the fallacious theology which many of us inherited, could not do otherwise than wax indignant toward such a supposed being, as these half-linked notions made God to be. I even honor his indignation; but it was wasted upon a moral scare-crow. Colonel Ingersoll should have recognized that this was only a caricature of Jehovah, and not the character of our God and Father, as the gentle Jesus revealed Him to be. For many centuries—yes, from the early fathers of the Church, many Christians discovered that we are not obliged to accept all the ideas of God that we have received from the Jews. Mr. Ingersoll's unusual perspicacity should have perceived this; but we all are often blinded by prejudice. Let any one collect all the texts that attempt to give the moral attributes of Jehovah in the Jewish Old Testament, and then try to reconcile and harmonize them to the satisfaction of an unbiased moral nature, and he will see how impossible that is. These writers lived in many different centuries, and gave the prevailing opinions of their respective times and places, concerning the words and deeds which they supposed were divine. Some of the actions and words which they thus presume to give Jehovah are childish, and some are immoral, and others positively immoral. But the great majority, happily, are good, noble sublime, and highly inspired.

All are to be tested by the life and teachings of Jesus Christ—those that do not agree with the New Testament character of Jehovah, are to be consigned as the imperfect conceptions of the earlier ages.

Mr. Ingersoll's father was a Christian minister, and his son was reared in a Christian atmosphere. However imperfect it was, he should have made allowance for the undeveloped moral conceptions of a primitive people, who had none of his advantages. Had he been in their place, he would have landed with his eloquence the very crude conceptions of Delity, which he so zealously denounced as a public writer and lecturer.

To accept the positions which we have here outlined is to align one's self with the great majority of the great Bible scholars today, and at the same time it makes Ingersollism impossible by wrecking from its hands the club it used against a scare-crow caricature of Jehovah.

Smuts Going

 Success as a mediator due to his former position as one of the anti-English leaders in the South African war. This, it is held by these observers, has established a common bond between the southern Irish leaders and General Smuts, who renders his advice more acceptable to them than that of almost any other outsider.

Before Premier Smuts' projected trip to Dublin, it is expected Mr. DeValera will have submitted the prime minister's proposals to the Irish Republican parliament, or at least have canvassed the situation with the Sinn Féin leaders.

LONDON, July 23.—With Eamon DeValera back in Dublin, British circles today apparently had settled down to await the next move in the Irish negotiations, which are expected to come from the southern Irish capital soon after leaders of the Republicans have had a chance to study the document which Mr. DeValera received from Prime Minister Lloyd George.

A meeting of the Daily Eireann for the purpose of considering the British offer is looked for next week, but Sinn Féin leaders here appear to feel that ten days or more will elapse before notable developments can occur. Meanwhile, publication of proposals is not anticipated immediately, unless premier Lloyd George and Mr. DeValera reach an agreement to that effect.

Two important points which seem to have considerable bearing on the negotiations are, first, whether another meeting between Sir James Craig, premier of Ulster, and DeValera can be arranged in Ireland, and, second, whether an amendment to the present home rule act would be satisfactory to the Irish Republic, should such a solution be advanced.

A comprehensive statement covering the entire negotiations is expected to be made by Mr. Lloyd George in the house of commons next week.

Dublin Hopeful For a Settlement
 DUBLIN, July 23.—The impression is growing here that the Irish peace offer made by Premier Lloyd George to Eamon DeValera, the Republican leader, will work out in a settlement. The terms of the offer are still being held in the strictest confidence.

Unster Not Yet Interested in Parley
 BELFAST, IRELAND, July 23.—Ulster at the moment is not concerned with the negotiations being carried on by the British government with the Sinn Féin, it is declared in Unionist quarters here. These negotiations, it is generally assumed by the public, deal with fiscal and financial questions. It is conceivable, political circles say, that in certain circumstances Ulster would become involved, but that stage of the proceedings has not yet been reached.

Fresh developments in the political situation here were lacking today.

MISSION IN PERU

LIMA, July 23.—The American mission to the centenary celebration of Peru's independence arrived in Lima yesterday on board a special naval squadron consisting of the battleships Arizona, Oklahoma and Nevada.

The mission is headed by Alfred Douglas, of Washington, who has been given the rank of ambassador-extraordinary for the occasion. Other members include Major General Hunter Liggett, representing the United States army, and Rear Admiral Hugh Rodman, representing the navy.

LOWER CAR FARE NEAR IN DAYTON AS RESULT OF WAGE-CUT

DAYTON, O., July 23.—Dayton's seven cent street car fare may drop back to five cents as the result of the street car men's strike. One of the system's operating lines is drawing up a new ordinance asking for a five cent fare with two cents for transfers. This came after thirty bus operators announced they would operate under a seven cent grant with a reduced fare, if business permitted.

Three car lines now are operating regularly and two during daylight hours. Of those running on regular schedule, two have made agreements with union employees who recognize the open shop, and the third is operating with its old car men, who were not union men.

Mayor Switzer has announced that the companies must reduce their fares. The city allowed them to jump from five to seven cents a year ago when the men were given a 62 cents per hour wage scale. Union men now are receiving 48 cents an hour and non-union men 45 cents an hour. A fare decrease proportionate to the wage reduction will be demanded.

Busses are operating along the right way of way of the non-union operated car lines and report their business good.

TWO BLOWN TO PIECES

CLEVELAND, O., July 23.—Two men were blown to pieces, one was perhaps fatally injured and a fourth slightly hurt in a premature explosion of dynamite this morning at the clay bank of the Collinwood State Brick and Supply Co. The dead are Cecil Kompara and Vincent Legar, laborers. The explosion occurred when Kompara and Legar were tamping two sticks of dynamite in a hole in the clay bank. The force of the explosion threw the dead men fifty feet.

Papa Probably Did.
 Papi had been naughty, whacking at the parlor chairs, and poking the cushions with an ornamental sword, and as a crowning horror, in examining a meerschaum pipe had dropped and broken it. In grim silence his father glared at the wreck and Paul stared back at him, transfixed, till at last he broke the tension himself. "Well, why—why—don't you do something?" he demanded.

DEBTS DUE U. S. ARE CAUSE OF CONTROVERSY

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
 (Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)

WASHINGTON, July 23.—America has no thought of accepting worthless securities of any kind in payment of the allied debt of ten billions. Great Britain has not asked that the United States accept German bonds in exchange for her debt and America wouldn't agree to it if the request were made.

Unless Congress grants the executive branch of the government sufficient authority and broad powers to negotiate with all the foreign governments who owe the United States money, there is a serious danger that negotiations over refunding may be prolonged over many years and the interest payments delayed indefinitely.

There three principles underlie the controversy which has arisen between an element in the Senate and the treasury, over the effort of secretary Mellon to get enough power to handle the foreign debts of the United States.

Mr. Mellon has spent practically the entire week answering the questions of Senators some of whom seem to give the impression that they fear Mr. Mellon with either counsel the foreign debts or accept securities that aren't worth much. They either don't know Mr. Mellon's ability as a banker and business man or they don't like confidence in him. As a matter of fact, Secretary Mellon is the last man in the world to have a worthless security passed across his desk and is the least likely to forgive or remit obligations of such character because all his life he has been trained to negotiate and bargain and his own private success is testimony to what his natural inclination is in any transaction.

But the secretary of the treasury isn't to be empowered to decide the matter alone. The request for authority means that President Harding himself will have to approve any settlement made by the Secretary of the treasury before it is actually valid. In other words those Senators who don't know Mr. Mellon need only have faith in their own collective intelligence, the former Senator from Ohio who now sits in the White House. If they heard—as they are bound to hear—something of the nature of the negotiations with foreign governments and they don't like it they can always express their views privately to Mr. Harding but the real reason why the administration wants broad power to negotiate the funding of interest and principal on the foreign debt is that it is impracticable to have a legislative body conduct an investigation on such confidential matters. The treasurer will ask, for instance, that all cards be laid on the table. Foreign governments will ask that the information be treated as confidential and in the discussion which are to take place the utmost secrecy will be required until an agreement is reached. What the United States may be able to get from one government it may not be able to obtain from another if all the negotiations are public and if all the loans have to be separated as separate propositions.

The trouble is the treasury has some authority under one law and another species of authority under another.

The loans were made at different stages of the war and the most practical way to deal with them is as a unit. Thus all the loans made to Great Britain would be treated as a group and those with France as a group. The treasury wants plenty of authority to make agreements because it doesn't want to have anyone hereafter cast doubt upon the validity of the securities accepted on the ground that the treasury had no power to accept them.

Furthermore, there are certain kinds of securities in the treasuries of foreign governments that are of more value than securities issued during the war and the treasury department here wants to be free to accept the best that are available without restrictions that limit or cast doubt on its power to negotiate.

Some suggestion has been made that the treasury agreements be ratified by the Senate, but if that is done the foreign governments will not consider them binding and will be inclined to wait until the attitude of the Senate is known before agreeing finally to make their best proposition. In other words if they know they must give the treasury their best terms, the matter will end there. Furthermore secretary Mellon hasn't asked that the foreign government be given to cancel or remit all or part of the allied debts. He merely wants authority to arrange for the payment of the interest and principal due. There isn't any question being raised as to whether the allies owe the money. They acknowledge their indebtedness. But some of the loans have come due and remain unpaid. Already the interest has been declared during the last two years because the allies couldn't pay and America didn't think it was good business to press them to pay out all the gold they had and force them into bankruptcy which would mean inability to pay for American products. Inasmuch as the interest has already been declared, America had no other choice. But payments of interest and principal to run along without any definite promise from the allies to pay within fixed periods. Secretary Mellon wants power to get the allies to agree upon a time when the interest and principal payments on the interest and principal. Congress alone can remit the debt.

The executive branch of the government isn't interested in what the preceding administration said or didn't say. Mellon insists it isn't relevant. There is no agreement on the books today binding the allies to pay interest on any specific sum of money. Mellon wants to get such an agreement and the chances are that when Congress understands how much of a delay will be involved in limiting or remitting the authority requested, it probably will be given ungrudgingly. Already the soldiers who want the bonus paid out of the interests are arguing speed in negotiating with foreign governments for payment. But the business world as a whole feels that international exchange and the purchasing power of Europe will improve when once the uncertainty surrounding the allied debt to the United States is removed.

Standard Oil Critic Now After Insurance Contracts

COLUMBUS, O., July 23.—George H. Phelps, of Findlay, who filed suit in the supreme court in April in an effort to compel the state superintendent of insurance to declare invalid and cancel insurance contracts entered into by physicians, surgeons and dentists, for indemnity protection, today filed an amended petition in which he demands that Superintendent B. W. Goodhart also cancel indemnity insurance carried by owners of automobiles in Ohio.

No Rivalry.
 A visitor was being shown over a big cotton mill by the proprietor, who proudly displayed some of the fabrics produced. Holding up a piece of printed calico, he said: "Our latest pattern. Excellent work, isn't it?" "It's all right," said the visitor, "but you can't hold a candle to the goods we turn out in my works." "Same line?" asked the host, somewhat offended. "No," rejoined the other, "ours is gunpowder!"

Phelps cites the policies issued by the Actina Life Insurance Co., of Hartford, Conn., as an example of the sort of insurance which he endeavors to have done away with.

The Findlay man is well known for his activities against the Standard Oil Co. some years ago.

These contracts and this business are violative of the law and policy of the state," declares the petition, which is aimed at the insurance of auto owners against loss or expense arising from claims against them on account of bodily injury or death accidentally incurred through the operation of their machines.

The Japs showed wonderful team work and Shimidzu's overhead smashing shattered his opponents' defense time and time again.

ASSISTANT STICK-UP CHEAP

NEW YORK, July 23.—Ten dollars per stick-up is the scale offered by New York hold-up men for assistants, according to a story detectives say they obtained from Gerald Clair, of Denver, held for complicity in the robbery of two cigar stores.

According to the detectives, Clair admitted he held a gun while his employer rifled the cash register. Clair is said to have gotten twenty dollars, while the robbery netted his companion $140.

Funding Rail Debt Plan Is Ready For Submission

WASHINGTON, July 23.—President Harding will submit to congress next Tuesday the administration plan for funding the debts of the railroads to the government and meeting without additional appropriations claims of the roads growing out of federal control.

An understanding has been reached between the roads and the administration, it was learned today, to facilitate speedy settlement of the claims of the carriers without any new arrangement or modification of the war time contracts with the government. Authority to fund the debt of the roads, it was explained, is given the President by the transportation act, but it was deemed advisable to acquaint congress with the method under consideration.

After three weeks of negotiations the basis upon which the railroads' claims would be quickly met, was said to have been reached through the roads according to the administration's request to waive claims for "inefficiency of labor" in work done on the lines by the government before returning them to private control. In waiving such claims, however, it was declared the right of any of the roads to sue on them in the courts would not be affected in the event of a failure of settlement.

Debts of the roads to the government have been generally estimated at about five hundred million dollars while their claims have been put at various figures. Director General of Railroads Davis, in a recent estimate to congress declared that while all estimates were not in, it was thought the total would be one billion, two hundred and fifty million dollars, which if settled on the basis of about 40 per cent as heretofore would approximate five hundred millions.

TO RAISE FOUR BILLIONS TAXES EXCLUSIVE OF POSTAL RECEIPTS

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The house ways and means committee will set about tax revision with the idea of raising four billion dollars in revenue exclusive of postal receipts in the next year, Chairman Fordney said tonight after he had conferred at length with Secretary Mellon on the general subject of taxation. The amount required is the same as has been raised by the present law and shows no hope, therefore of a reduction of the gross amount needed.

Many changes are proposed in the hope of readjusting the burden in a way that will encourage commerce and industry and thereby increase the revenues, according to Mr. Fordney. From Mr. Fordney's remarks, it appeared that majority committee members were agreed on abolition of the excess profits tax and the substitution for it of some levy on corporations, probably around 15 per cent. Reduction in the piere surtax also seemed assured.

The new tax bill probably will be made retroactive over the calendar year of 1921 on incomes and other forms of taxes based on the calendar period.

Transportation taxes would be repealed, under Mr. Fordney's plan, but he said it might not be possible to do so. Many of the special war time taxes, described recently by Mr. Mellon, as "misuses" are certain to be eliminated under the program to be advocated by the committee chairman.

As for a reduction in the taxes on normal incomes or the raising of the personal income exemptions, Mr. Fordney held out little hope. Chairman Fordney would not say that a general tax reduction was possible.

Sharp Criticism of Management Of the Ohio State Penitentiary

CLEVELAND, O., July 23.—Speaking at a moving picture theatre here tonight, Thomas Mott Osborne, noted prison reformer, made sharp criticism of the management of the Ohio State Penitentiary and of conditions in the institution.

Osborne, who was formerly warden of Sing Sing prison and is an authority on prison life. He is in Cleveland with a moving picture depicting prison life. He based his criticism of the Ohio institution on statements which were made to him recently by persons released from the Ohio penitentiary. Osborne said conditions Columbus were worse than those in Sing Sing and Auburn prisons before pre-reform methods went into effect.

The system of locking two men in one cell, Osborne said, has a tendency to breed immorality. He also condemned the alleged practice of punishing prisoners by tying them between two steel doors and compelling them to stand upright for 12 hours at a time. The idea, he said, of 700 men "rusting in idleness" was also a disgrace and a menace to society, Osborne asserted.

Osborne said he believed that Warden Thomas was not aware of many of the undesirable conditions that are in existence in the state's prison. Recently for the state of affairs alleged to exist, Osborne said, would be establishment of a mutual welfare league among the prisoners which he said is in successful operation both in Sing Sing and Auburn prisons.

COLUMBUS, O., July 23.—Warden P. E. Thomas, of the Ohio penitentiary, in a statement here today, answering criticisms against the penitentiary, made yesterday in a speech at Cleveland by Thomas Mott Osborne, asserted he understood Osborne's prison reform theories partially were responsible for the uprising recently at the Western penitentiary in Pennsylvania.

"I am informed that the riots which happened at the Western penitentiary were stirred up by prisoners transferred from the Eastern penitentiary of the same state, where the soviet methods advocated in prison management by Thomas Mott Osborne, are in vogue," Warden Thomas said.

"The chief difference between Thomas Mott Osborne and myself," Thomas continued, "is this: He advocates that prisons be conducted and run by prisoners. In other words, socialism in prison. I believe that prisons should be managed and operated by officers, that prisoners should learn obedience.

"Only the hardened criminal and worst element in prison is in favor of Osborne's methods."

Warden Thomas defended conditions at the Ohio penitentiary by pointing out that there are 2,300 men, and 300 cells. He asserted Osborne never has been inside the penitentiary.

Troops Leave For Camp

TOLEDO, O., July 23.—Units of the second regiment, Ohio National Guard, that leaves Camp Perry today were being mobilized in the Union Station railroad yards this morning.

Two special trains will convey this northwestern Ohio units under Colonel Gibson D. Light, of Toledo, to Camp Perry, where it will remain for a two weeks' training period.

Company R, Ohio City, under Captain Lee Martin, arrived over the Cleveland at 8.15 a. m. This was to be followed at 11.53 a. m. by Companies C, E, F and G from Findlay, and other troops in that direction. Other companies will come in the afternoon.

The first special, in charge of Major A. A. Drinkwater, of Tiffin, will leave Toledo at 7.25 p. m. and the second special under Captain W. O. Rogers an hour later.

He is shown in a group going to a "Subbotnik," which means Sabbath days, Saturday and Sunday. On these days everybody from the president down voluntarily gives four hours of his time to the government for extra duty, consisting of cleaning roads, getting fuel or any other work directed by the various heads of departments.

Cleveland, 125 Years Old, To Welcome Famous Train

CLEVELAND, O., July 23.—Today's celebration of Cleveland's 125th birthday is featured by two exhibitions this evening. The famous old Dewitt Clinton train, first to carry passengers on the New York Central lines in 1831, and the presentation in Wade park box of the huge historical and allegorical pageant, "The Spirit of the City."

The old train was due to reach here this evening and will remain on exhibition until Monday morning. The train will be brought here by an equally famous old locomotive—Number 1031, the "Empire State Express," in which made a world's speed record of 112 miles an hour in 1892.

Steel Corporation Income Tax Sixty Millions, Claim

NEW YORK, July 23.—The government's claim to approximately sixty million dollars in income taxes from the United States Steel Corporation is being disputed, it was announced today by Chairman Elbert H. Gary, of the steel corporation. This amount is equal to $11.80 a share on the 5,083,025 shares of common stock.

"In making our income tax returns to the government of 1917 and 1918," said Mr. Gary, "we raised questions concerning items involving approximately sixty million dollars of taxes. Believing these were not taxable we claimed credit for them in our returns.

"Recently the government representatives have been discussing with us the questions relating to these items. They have not decided. We have no way of determining when a decision will be reached."

GOES TO GARAGE TO GET CAR, IS MISSING LEARNS IT FIGURED IN ACCIDENT ON TRAIL

The Ford touring car owned by Ed Clifford of Tenth street near Washington was taken from his garage on Friday afternoon without his knowledge and the next thing he knew of it relatives informed him the machine was damaged on Scoto Trail, this side of the Boulevard.

The Ford said to have been driven by a man who gave his name as Smith and who disappeared in the crowd, crashed into a Ford delivery truck driven by J. F. Amberg, grocer, Ninth and Findlay streets.

Amberg was driving north on the Trail enroute to his camp, near Rushdown. He says the driver of the Ford touring car was driving from one side of the road to the other and when he came near he (Amberg) drove his truck over to one side, none of the wheels being on the paving. This did not prevent the collision, the touring car coming directly across the road and crashed into the truck which had both front wheels broken. The front of the touring car was damaged.

Henry Clifford of Twelfth street, happened by in his machine and recognized the damaged touring car as the one belonging to his brother. On his arrival here he went to his brother's house and found he had just returned from a fishing trip and did not know the machine was out of the garage.

THIS YOUNG MOTHER

Tells Childless Women what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did for Her

Millston, Wis.—"I want to give you a word of praise for your wonderful medicine. We are very fond of children and for a considerable time after we married I feared I would not have any owing to my weak condition. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I have a strong, healthy baby girl. I can honestly say that I did not suffer much more when my baby was born than I used to suffer with my periods before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound years ago. I give all the credit to your medicine and shall always recommend it very highly."—Mrs. H. H. JANSSEN, Millston, Wisconsin.

How can women who are weak and sickly expect or hope to become mothers of healthy children? Their first duty is to themselves. They should overcome the derangement or debility that is dragging them down, and strengthen the entire system, as did Mrs. Janssen, by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and give their children the blessing of a good constitution.

Ohio will have a bunch of new laws on its statute books Monday.

Nineteen bills, enacted by the recent Legislature, became effective that day, with the expiration of the 90-day period between date of filing with the secretary of state and the constitutional effective date.

One of the bills was fostered by the Anti-Saloon League as part of its legislative program, and provides for confiscation and sale of vehicles used in the illegal transport of liquor. Under its provisions any "wagon, buggy, automobile, water or aircraft," seized while used for liquor-hauling, shall be sold at public auction.

The baseball bribery bill, fostered by Representative J. A. Green of Youngstown, is another measure which becomes law Monday. It provides a fine of not more than $10,000 or imprisonment in the penitentiary for from one to five years for giving a bribe to a ball player or manager who solicits or accepts a bribe or "any value thing" to influence him to lose, "or try to lose" a ball game.

NEW BOSTON

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gray of Oak street was the scene of a delightful party last evening when their daughter Frances entertained a number of friends. Flowers were beautifully arranged about the rooms, and music was the main diversion of the evening. Misses Edna Allen and Doris Armstrong assisted the hostess in serving a delightful course of fruit salad and cake. ## THE MOVIES EXHIBIT THEATRE

Another Big Entertainment Today At the Exhibit Theatre with Harry Carey in his Latest Western Special Attraction "The Wallup" and one of those Good Century Comedies.

"The Wallup," Eugene Manlove Rhodes' most dramatic story of the old West, will be the principal attraction at the Exhibit theatre tonight for two days only with the popular Harry Carey in the starring role. The popular western star has done full justice to the story by his interpretation of the big dramatic moments. The production will be regarded by those who witness it as one of the star's best screen efforts.

The story shows a man who returns to the western country after making his strike in the gold fields. He finds that the girl he loves has given her heart to a younger man. Suppressing his own desires, he helps his rival in an exciting and bloody political campaign.

With spontaneous bits of humor, amazingly thrilling drama and heart interest predominating, Jack Ford directed the story at Universal City from the adaptation of George C. Hill.

Mignonne Golden, the pretty little girl who has been seen in the leading feminine role in other recent Carey successes, has the supporting role. The famous Harry Carey Flying Squadron of cowpunchers, also will be seen in action.

J. R. MURPHY and GARDNER HUNTING

IF WOMEN ONLY KNEW

BASED ON DR. J. C. HENNING'S "MARRIAGE"

At the Eastland Theatre Tonight Is Your Last Chance to See Robert Gordon and An All Star Cast In "If Women Only Knew," One of the Best Pictures in a Long Time Extra Added Feature—Jimmy Aubrey In "The Blizzard," the Star's Newest and Funniest Comedy.

"If Women Only Knew," the new Robertson-Cole release, which opened a two days' run at the Eastland theatre yesterday, is one of the strongest dramatic photoplays of the year. While no particular individual is featured, the cast might be termed an all-star one. The scenario is a screen adaptation of Balzac's interesting work, "Meditations on Marriage," and if there is any change in the story it is for the better, the screen having enhanced its value.

Throughout the picture the settings run the gamut of possibilities, ranging from the episodes of college days to the gay life of one of New York City's big hotels. E. H. Griffith, director of the picture, took his college shots on and around the campus of Cornell University at Ithaca, N. Y., and he chose wisely. Several interior settings include drawing rooms in mansions where the atmosphere of affluence predominates, and several shots of a good old-fashioned "homey" home.

Charles McKnight and Miss Ruth Blume were guests yesterday of Mrs. Wm. Zeune of Long Run.

The Guiding Stars class of the Baptist church enjoyed a picnic today in Millbrook park.

Mrs. Ernest Colman of Gallia avenue who is ill is no better.

A Man From India

A country in another part of the world is always of special interest to one who has never had the privilege of making a personal tour of the same. The next best thing is to learn all one can from books and pictures, or by hearing some one speak who has spent enough time there to be thoroughly familiar with the people and the land. Tomorrow evening at seven o'clock old time those who attend Manly church are to have the privilege of listening to Dr. S. A. Dis who has spent several years as a Christian worker in far away India. Dr. Dis has had a wide experience among the people of that land and will bring a message full of interesting and instructive facts. Take main line car and get off at City street.

LECTURE IN BIBLE STUDENTS' HALL

The regular Sunday evening public lecture in Bible Students Hall will be delivered by J. L. Dillo, who will use for his subject "To Hell And Back." While the subject may seem sensational, Mr. Dillo says that nothing is further from his thought than to treat the matter in a sensational manner and that there is nothing sensational about the subject when properly understood. Mr. Dillo is a favorite with many and a good attendance is expected Sunday evening. As usual the lecture will be free, with no collections.

Ferguson Is Fined $1,000

IRONTON, July 23.—John Ferguson of Hanging Rock, arrested by the sheriff on a charge of violating the liquor laws, was given a hearing in Magistrate Epp's court yesterday afternoon and upon being adjudged guilty was assessed a fine of $1,000 and costs. Ferguson could not pay and was sent to jail.

"Luck." One of the many ways in which the individual unwisely eclipses himself, is in his worship of the fetish of luck. He feels that all others are lucky, and that whatever he attempts, fails. . . . Their "luck" was that they had prepared themselves to be equal to their opportunity when it came and were awake to recognize it and receive it.—Jordan.

Country of Horse Raisers. The Argentine Republic contains more horses than any other country, the proportion being about 112 to every 100 of the population.

Life's Essentials. The grand essentials of life are something to do, something to love and something to hope for.—Thomas Chalmers.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS
NEW YORK, July 23.—Ralls were the firm features at the hesitant opening of today's stock market. Shorts covered moderately in those issues on news that the federal government had virtually agreed upon a plan for funding the obligations of the transportation companies. Steels and equipments registered slight gains and losses and oil manifested similar tendencies. Sugar rubber and paper issues were among the steady specialties. Preliminary exchange rates on London were reactionary.
Today's short session of the stock market was devoted mainly to the usual week end settlements of contracts. Shorts covered first in railroads, where fractional gains prevailed and later in oils, Mexican Petroleum, General Asphalt and Royal Dutch rising to 1 1/2 points. Other firm to strong issues included Bethlehem and Cru-cible Steels, Westinghouse, Studebaker, sugars, tobaccos and textiles. The closing was firm with sales of approximately 175,000 shares.

President On

Camping Trip
WASHINGTON D. C., July 23.—
President Harding left here by automobile today to join the camping party of Harvey S. Firestone, Henry Ford and Thomas A. Edison on Licking Creek, near Peckville, Maryland, seventeen miles from Hagerstown, Maryland. He expected to spend the night under canvas and return to Washington late tomorrow.

Mrs. Harding did not accompany the president, having decided not to accept the invitation.
The president's schedule called for luncheon at the camp and an afternoon in the Maryland and West Virginia hills. Besides Mr. Firestone, Mr. Ford and Mr. Edison and their wives, he will visit William F.
Anderson, of the Methodist Episcopal church, an old friend, and Mrs. Anderson, at the camp. Bishop Anderson is understood to have arranged for Mr. Harding's spending the weekend with the party. There was something of a memorial to the late John Burroughs about the occasion, as Messrs. Firestone, Ford and Edison are past years frequently were in company with the naturalist in out-of-door trips of the same kind.

White Sox Case

Resumes Monday
CHICAGO, July 23.—When the trial of former White Sox players and alleged gamblers charged with entering into a conspiracy to throw the 1919 world series to Cincinnati is resumed on Monday, one of the first questions to be decided by the court will be whether the grand jury statements signed by Eddie Cicotte, Claude
Williams and Joe Jackson can be admitted as evidence despite the appearance of the immunity waivers.

The court has already ruled the statement, if admitted, can apply only to those players making the statement.
With yesterday's evidence involving
Joe Jackson, former outfielder, Louis
Levi, alleged catcher, gambler, and Carl Zerk, alleged gambler from St.
Louis, Buck Weaver, former Sox infielder, remains as the only one of the players not yet hit by the fire of the state's attorney's attack, while the test against whom evidence has been presented is none.

The trial is expected to take up all of next week, defense witnesses taking the stand early in the week.

POLICE CHIEF GUILTY
TULSA, Okla., July 23.—John A. Gustafson, suspended chief of police, was found guilty of having failed to take proper precautions for public safety on the night and day of the recent race riot here and also guilty on another count of conspiracy to free automobile thieves and collect rewards.

Chicago Grain
And Provisions
CHICAGO, July 23.—Wheat prices today touched the lowest level of the week. Huge arrivals at all the winter crop terminals acted as a weight on values. Besides weather conditions in the spring crop region continued favorable. Opening quotations, which varied from unchanged figures to 1 1/2c lower, with September 1.23 1/2 to 1.25 and December 1.20 1/2 to 1.21 1/2, were followed by declines all around.
Corn descended with wheat. After opening, 7 1/2 to 7 3/4 lower, including September at 6 1/2 to 6 1/4, the market underwent another sag.

Other cereals, opening unchanged to 1/4c off, September 40 1/2 to 40 1/4, and then showing increased weakness.
Provisions lacked any aggressive support.

Tournament Narrows Down To 12 Players

Only twelve men remain in the running in the singles horsehoe tournament following the pitching at the old Children's Home Grounds last night. Five of them will be eliminated on Monday night, leaving but seven to fight out the contest the rest of next week.

Two men, Ed Appel and W. Cline, have not lost a game during the entire tournament. They are scheduled to meet each other Monday, when one of them will have to take his place in the ranks of those who have tasted defeat. Both have been pitching wonderful games, and the contest promises to be hot one.

Averages for ringers per game went high last night when Swickert with 28 ringers in three games made a high average of six ringers to the game. N. Kitchin and W. W. Bierley with 27 ringers in three games, Strader with 26 in three games and Doll with 25 in five games, all had averages of five per game or better. Doll made only one point in his first game, so that his twenty-five ringers were actually made in four games, which would give him an average of six and one-quarter per game, the best yet scored.

C. Book had lost no games until last night when by a failure to appear he forfeited. Cline had a close call from dropping out of the no-defeat class when W. Crabtree forced him to go the limit to win.

Gerald, one half of the championship Hilton Eagles, lost by three straight last night and dropped out of the tournament. N. Kitchin, his partner in the doubles tourney, took three straight from Siter and is still in the running, although he has lost one game. He is scheduled to pitch against Swickert, holder of the high average next Monday.

Most of the contests last night were quickly over, six being decided in three straight games. Cline and Crabtree and J. Doll and E. N. Brady were the only ones who went the full limit.

The score for each contestant follows:

Court 1—Ed Appel three straight from McClure, 21-12, 21-16, 21-8.
Helsel three out of four from H. Bierley, 21-10, 21-17, 9-21, 21-4.
Court 2—N. Kitchin three straight from Siter 21-8, 21-9, 21-6.
Cline three out of five from Crabtree, 21-17, 21-21, 21-8, 21-14.
Court 3—Burton three straight from F. Kitchin, 21-9, 21-6, 21-17.
Swickert three straight from C. M. Howland, 21-8, 21-13, 21-9.
Court 4—W. W. Bierley three straight from Gerald, 21-15, 21-8, 21-12.
J. Doll three out of five from E. N. Brady, 12-21, 20-21, 21-18, 21-10, 21-4.
Court 5—L. E. Strader three straight from O. Dempsey, 21-17, 21-10, 21-7.

G. Rheinfank and C. Book forfeit, non-appearance.
The schedule for Monday night's pitching follows:
Court 1—Ed Appel vs. W. Cline; McClure vs. E. Helsel.
Court 2—H. Bierley vs. C. Book; N. Kitchin vs. Swickert.
Court 3—W. W. Bierley vs. L. E. Strader; Burton vs. J. Doll.

DAVENPORT MAY JOIN OAKLEY
CINCINNATI, July 23.—Dave Davenport, former Red pitcher who recently was released by the Ogden team because he was too good for the Northern Utah League, may join the Oakleys for the balance of the season and help that team in its fight to win the semipro championship of the country.

The Oakley management is in touch with Dave by wire and they are close together on terms. The Oakley officials, however, are investigating Dave's standing in organized ball and will not take him on unless he is given a clean bill by Judge Landis.

Angling Made Easy.
A Californian keeps a lake property stocked with fish where anglers may throw their line and fish to their hearts' content by paying a fee for each fish caught. It is much cheaper and just as much fun as taking a long trip into the country.

Most Intelligent Animal.
Scientists say that the chimpanzee is superior to any other animal except man. Next in order comes the gorilla, then the orang-outang. The gibbon, still another variety of ape, comes fourth.

What Else Could He Say?

HAVRE, July 23.—Georges Carpentier arrived here last night from New York and will spend several weeks in France before again visiting the United States next fall.

In an interview Carpentier declared that he considered Jack Dempsey, world's heavy-weight boxing champion, unquestionably the best fighter of the present day, and said that he thought the heavy weight title would be safe in Dempsey's hands for four or five years.

Enter Championship Contest

NEW YORK, July 23.—Jim Barnes, winner yesterday of the national open golf tournament at the Columbia (Maryland) Country Club, is one of many golfing stars expected to see off in the metropolitan open championship at Sivanoy Country Club of Mount Vernon next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, it was announced today.

Others include Walter Hagen, last year's national open champion; Joseph Kirkwood and J. Victor East, of Australia. George Duncan and Abe Mitchell, of England, will not participate. About 130 entrants are expected to start.

FORMER CHAMPS ENTER TOURNAMENT

NEW YORK, July 23.—Miss Mary Drown and Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, both of California, and former women's tennis champions, will play in the women's New York state championship next week, the entry list for which has closed with 38 names. William T. Tilden II, national champion, and Davis Cupplac, is coupled with Vincent Richards, national junior champion, in the New York sectional doubles championship, which will be held at the same time as the women's tournament at Crescent Athletic Club, Brooklyn.

Large Crowds Attend Meetings

Evangelist Neighbour brought a great message last night at the big tent, on the subject of the new birth. He handled the subject in a masterly way in presenting this doctrine from the Biblical standpoint. This man lets the Bible be its own interpreter and gives no heed to the spirit of unbelief, which would explain away its plain statements.

Much interest was manifested throughout the service. It is not hard to listen to this man preach. He always has a message for you. After hearing him you have plenty upon which to meditate until the next service.

The crowds continue to come in such numbers we have been compelled to increase the seating capacity. More seats were placed in the tent Saturday.

This meeting is the attraction of the village and surrounding community and you hear it talked everywhere. We ask the praying Christians of the public to join us in prayer for the salvation of many souls.

Twenty-four Years Ago

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Ross of Court street celebrated their golden wedding anniversary while visiting their children at Cleveland.

There was a pleasant boating party on the river in honor of Miss Cora Dwyer of Franklin Furnace. The party went out in three skiffs and spent several hours in the river. The evening was enlivened by mandolin and guitar music. Those in the party were Misses Laura Halderman, Mabel Freytag, Mabel Pick, Kathryn Moeller, May Winter, Edith Staton and Cora Dwyer, and Messrs. Arthur Ruggles, Cliff Kinney, Oscar Adams, Harry Blankeneyer and Eustace Stevens.

Cropper's Portsmouth team put it all over the Cincinnati Naves at Athletic park, winning the combat by the score of 10 to 3, the winners putting all their markers over in the sixth inning. Dick Smith pitched for the locals and Gillett, Reynolds and Wafley, of Otway, played the out-field.

Some boys on West Third street amused themselves by feeding cats to Sam Cuthill's hogs, which caused neighbors to wonder what Sam fed his swine to make them look so sleek and fat.

AND WE TAXPAYERS HAVE TO FURNISH THE FUEL

INTERNATIONAL MEET ON TODAY

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., July 23.—College youth of England and America, matched speed and strength in the games of track and field at the Harvard stadium today. It was the fifth international meeting between athletic teams of Oxford and Cambridge, Harvard and Yale, and the score of the series stood a tie.

The athletes came down to the stadium from Swampscott on the north shore where they had trained together by day and danced on the same floors in the evening. The spirit of sporting fraternity in which Americans had helped British rivals by instruction in pole vaulting and the high jump, and which the Englishmen had manifested in accepting without question the program of events suggested by their hosts, was still in evidence.

CATTLE SHOW AT FAIR

Will Outshine the Other Live Stock in Point of Popularity.

In 1920 the Ohio State Fair cattle show ranked third in the United States. When the 1921 premium list was sent to press the cattle premiums totaled $33,940, a larger amount than the management has ever before seen fit to give this division. This means that from third place Ohio should move to second or even first. The quality of the breeds displayed and the closeness of the competition have always marked State Fair week and now that the size of the show is so far above the ordinary, there can be no doubt but that this department will outshine the other live stock in point of popularity.

It is expected that the seating capacity of the coliseum will be taxed to the utmost during the judging of the beef, dual and dairy breeds.

NIGHT HORSE SHOW A BIG ATTRACTION

To Be Circus, Auto Polo Match and Equine Exhibit Combined.

By far the most pretentious attraction to be found on the State Fair grounds this year will be found in the evening performance at the Coliseum. This building, undoubtedly the best of its kind in the middle west, will house what is termed the Night Horse Show, but what really is a circus, an auto polo match and a horse show combined.

Opening with a band concert, the performance will start with a complete three ring circus, as from the vaudeville stages of the United States and from the sawdust ring. Every variety of performer, from acrobats, trained animals, jugglers and clowns to dancers and celebrated musicians, will be on the program.

At the conclusion of the first section of the entertainment, the rings will be cleared and a complete auto polo match will be put on. This is the most thrilling of indoor attractions, and its reception in past years guarantees that it will please everyone.

As a pleasing climax to the evening comes the Horse Show itself. All classes of harness and saddle horses will be paraded and judged and the program will be varied by the hurdle classes. Admirers of good horse flesh will delight in this excellently managed competition and the entire evening's program can not fail to please through its great variety.

BABY SHOW A FEATURE

State Fair Management Puts on Second Annual Contest.

The success of last year's baby show has led the State Fair management to again provide for this amusing contest in the 1921 premium list. This contest is open to children between the ages of six months and three years, and is conducted under the direction of the Children's Home Society of Ohio. Mrs. H. A. Darby, matron of the home, will be in charge of the competition, and complete arrangements have been made to care for the little folks while on the grounds.

Entries may be made through Mrs. Darby, whose address is 40 West First avenue, Columbus. These entries can be made any time before the opening of the fair on Aug. 29. Parents are assured that their children will have competent nurses and medical attention.

DOG SHOW TO BE STAGED

First Annual Kennel Exhibit This Year at Ohio State Fair.

Supported by the state department of agriculture, the Capital City Kennel Club of Columbus is staging its first annual A. K. C. kennel show at the State Fair.

This attraction in connection with the fair is sure to draw thousands of dog lovers from every section of the country.

Many of the country's finest breed dogs have already been entered, and this exhibit promises to be the largest of its kind ever produced in America. Over 1,000 dogs are expected to be shown and every breed known to dogdom will be on display.

Fifteen hundred dollars in cash, together with an array of beautiful cups and special prizes, make up the premium list of this national attraction.

In addition to the regular prize competition the officials of the club are putting on a whippet race, the first of its kind ever presented in this section of the country. Due to recent newspaper discussion of these races as held in California there are bound to be a number of people drawn to the fair out of curiosity in this event.

A complete veterinary hospital will be established on the grounds the week of the fair, August 29, and all dogs will be subjected to a thorough physical examination before being allowed to compete. This should remove any objections by owners of famous prize-winners on the grounds that disease may be contracted by their pets during the show.

Deploable.

Master—Now, cook, just look here! Look at that piece of bacon I've just given your mistress! It's the worst I ever saw in my life and this piece I'm just going to take myself is only a little better.—Edinburgh Scotsman.

Difficulties Have Value.

A happiness that is quite undisturbed becomes tiresome; we must have our ups and downs; the difficulties which are mingled with love awaken passion and increase pleasure.

Two Matches

TORONTO, July 23.—Two matches were on the card today for the opening day's play of the Davis cup tennis (the between Canada and Australia. The respective opponents for Paul Bannett and F. H. LeFranchise, of the Dominion team, were J. B. Hawks and J. D. Anderson.

New World's Record

ALPENA, Mich., July 23.—A new world's record for the number of heats trotted over a half mile track in 2:10 or better was set in a short ship race here yesterday by Heroldwyn, driven by Haterwin. The gelding trotted one heat in 2:09 1-2 and another in 2:10, making his total 6. The previous record had been jointly held by Heroldwyn and Chlan at 4 heats.

Seeing the Pacific.

Nunez of Balboa hears a peculiar relation to Panama. He was not the first discoverer of the country nor its first settler, nor was he the organizer or administrator of the government in this part of Spanish territory, but he was the first white man to behold that broad sweep of ocean which we now call the Pacific, and he saw it from Panama territory.

GAMES THIS WEEK
Saturday, July 23—Steel Plant vs. Selby.

Backed up the sterling hurling of Widie Monk, one of the most versatile ball players and a gentleman and scholar as well, the Central Labor team treated themselves to quite a treat, last evening when they defeated the Champions 5 to 2 on the Industrial League grounds and before a non-partisan assemblage. Not only did Monk do a mighty good job on the mound despite the fact the Champs whacked him for eleven solid blows, but it was his bat that spilled disaster to the bared enemy. With two of the Herder herd on the cushions, Widie not only won a five dollar good piece from W. W. Bauer when he slammed one of Townsends' fast ones over the left field outbuilding, but the ball game as well. The ball was hit a mighty wallop and it climbed the left field fence like a squirrel going up a tree. Great applause greeted the Babe Ruth wallop and Widie was as happy as a kid with his first pair of copper-toed kicks.

Monk was fouled up now and then and was in several tight places, but always kept his head and pulled safely to port.

Townsends' hurling for the Champs and apparently did not extend himself. Usually he has a row of strikeouts as long as the Volstead act, but last evening he fanned but two men, both in the first frame. One of the features of the game was the double drive run in the center field park. But the eagle eye of "Peggy" Blake discovered the ball and the noted Fireman was thus deprived of a home run, although he drove in a couple of runs in the seventh. Blake got three hits in four trips to the plate. The game, play by play:

1st Inning
Cannon dropped Grimm's foul fly and then the Quick Repair shoe fly tanned, so it made no difference. Smith rolled to second. W. Monk was safe when Artie threw pulled Rollins off the sack. Jeuneau fanned.—No runs, no hits, no errors.

Blake was tossed out by "Champ" Cooper. Hensgen singled to middle and stole second. Manager Shultz grounded, third to first. Dunham making a nice catch of Grimm's assist. Rollins doubled to left center. Hensgen scoring. Cannon was thrown out by Cooper.—1 run, 2 hits, no errors.

2d Inning
C. Cooper sent a long fly which Lowry grabbed off the big tin tree in right. Blake made a nice catch off Dunham. H. Monk shot a line single to left. Fredis slid to Hensgen.—No runs, 1 hit, no errors.

Sanson rolled out "Hut" H. Monk, who slid to first in time. Artie, artistically, rolled to second. W. Monk was safe when Artie threw pulled Rollins off the sack. Jeuneau fanned.—No runs, no hits, no errors.

3d Inning
Hensgen hit the first ball and was a victim of the Townsend to Rollins routine. Grimm lined a single to middle. Smith singled to right. Widie Monk drove a home run over the outbuilding in left—a wallop of the real type. His drive, of course, drove in Grimm and Smith. Jeuneau rolled to Shultz who completed the play at first. C. Cooper was hit by a pitched ball. Dunham sent one a mile high to short—3 runs, 3 hits, no errors.

Townsends' fanned. Blake singled to right and stole. Hensgen singled to center. But Blake was thrown out by E. Cooper and W. Monk. Shultz beat out a hit to third but Hensgen trying to score, was out by a close call. Salvage gave an exhibition of how not to run bases this inning, throwing away at least two runs.—No runs, 1 hit, no errors.

4th Inning
H. Monk sent a long fly to Lowry. Fredis was tossed out by Shultz. E. Cooper singled to Blake. Grimm tried to steal, but failed to Shultz.—No runs, 1 hit, no errors.

Rollins fled to Fredis in right. Cannon's roar was a fly to middle.

Reds Getting Second Wind

NEW YORK, July 23.—Cincinnati won again from New York Friday 11 to 2, as the Giants were unable to hit Luque effectively except in the fourth. Douglas, was batted out in the seventh. Kelly hit his fourteenth home run of the season.

A BLOODY RECORD

ONE of the largest insurance companies in the country finds that its losses in its industrial division through automobile accidents, was 45 percent greater for the first four months of 1921, than for the corresponding period of 1920, though the latter was the greatest it had ever sustained, up to this year.

A part of the accidents may be ascribed to the fact that the ownership of cars, especially among wage earners, has gained unprecedentedly for a couple of years, but by far the major portion arises through causes that are easily preventable by the exercise of ordinary precaution and the exercise of a decent consideration for the rights of others. In other words careless and selfishness are at the bottom of most automobile mishaps, let us say about ninety-nine percent.

Most drivers are oblivious that there are other machines on the road, too many fail to appreciate that the other driver, may for the moment, have the right of way.

But a moment ago we observed an incident driving home the truth of this. An automobile was coming east on a street, another was going west on the same thoroughfare. It was the purpose of the latter to turn to the left into an intersecting street. As the two cars approached each other, neither running at a moderate speed for the section they were in, short space separated them. What did the man going west do, but turn right in front of the other auto. The driver of this was so non-plussed that he kept right straight ahead and the rule violator had to jump his car almost off its wheels and whirl so sharply to the left that he hit the curb, in order to keep from being hit amidships. It was a mighty close "sneak" and only the fact that the curb was damaged where he hit and there was a depression in the street saved him from mishap, perhaps, most serious.

Now it wouldn't have taken him two seconds to have run straight ahead, letting the other machine pass and made the proper turn, but, instead, he put the life of himself and another at hazard, because he was reckless and heedless.

There are too many of his kind at the wheel. When men meet up with their performances they haste to us and say we ought to denounce the authorities and carry on a campaign to teach that sort of people to be careful and considerate. But what is the use. The authorities can't keep an eye on every violator and there is nothing so bootless as preaching to the heedless and unthinking.

MAY IT BE ALTOGETHER SO

THIS said a new broom sweeps clean.

Governor Davis has got his consolidated system of state department in operation and may now proceed to exemplify his promise of economy and saving. Though it may be said an initial increase of $300,000 in salaries is scarce a happy augury of performance.

An announcement put forward, just now, by one of the bureaus may, however, give some home of well doing. This announcement runs to the effect that hereafter the blue sky law is going to be made more efficient, both in the letter and in the spirit.

There is a plethora of Ohio statutes to protect the gullible and unwary investor, but like so many others it has been the official supposition that they will enforce themselves. No laws or mere ordinance of man will do that and as a consequence the state has been overrun with promoters and stock salesmen, whose wares were either imperfect or else just down right fraudulent and as a consequence millions have been lost. If this gentry is thoroughly inquired into and a fruitful field closed to them, the change that Governor Davis brought about the assembly into making will have served an excellent purpose.

Now sisters and men, let's be fair and not say the latest Republican tariff bill treats the farmers rough and doesn't do a thing for them. It does a good deal and, if you would know, just read the tariff bill itself. Then you will learn it places a tariff of $350 against the importation of a black or silver fox. What more could any farmer want than that!

The administration is getting it by now that neither the absent treatment or faith cure works instantly. What optimism does for the dump malady was greeted last week with the dumbest period since 1908, the year of Teddy Roosevelt's personally conducted panic. And this week is worse.

One hundred and ten railroads were not included in the wage cut. However, they are fast signaling the railroad labor board that they were uncoupled.

Where They Lived.
 The Dominican Republic has been the home of a great many of Spain's explorers and conquerors. At Azua, in the southern part, about sixty miles from the capital founded by Diego Velasquez, the settler of Cuba, then dwelt at one time Hernando Cortez, the celebrated conqueror of Mexico; Balboa, who discovered the Pacific ocean, and Pizarro, famed for the conquest of Peru.

EXTENSION OF FARM CREDIT

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.—A member of the Federal Farm Loan Board has sailed for Porto Rico for an inspection trip of this island possession with a view to ascertaining whether the provisions of the Farm Loan Act can be extended to the Porto Rican farmers with certainty of success.

About six months ago congress passed an amendment to the Farm Loan act granting the board authority to extend its work to Porto Rico, by making this extension discretionary with the board. It is the confident belief of the members of the board that the island farmers will fit into the Farm Loan scheme without a hitch. If a favorable report is made by W. S. A. Smith, of Iowa, who was chosen for this mission, a branch of the Federal Land Bank situated at New Orleans will be established at some point in Porto Rico. The cities of San Juan, the capital, and Ponce, on the southern coast, appear to be the only contenders.

So great have the demands on the funds of the Land Banks become that congress recently amended the act creating the system, so that the treasury may have on deposit with these banks at any one time as high as $31,000,000. Until a few days ago this figure was but $6,000,000.

This additional fund will enable the 12 banks to make loans to farmers throughout the summer without the necessity of seeking to sell another issue of bonds when the market for them is not at the best. It is believed that by October the Farm Loan Board can advantageously sell another issue of bonds, and provide itself with additional funds for farmers.

The law requires that within 15 days after the sale of an issue of bonds that the deposits made by the treasury in Land Banks be returned. The system has grown so tremendously since its inception that members of the board estimate that ten times as much money could be used as even the tremendous amounts now handled. Up until the last of May, a resume shows that 141,000 farmers throughout the United States had taken advantage of this Federal credit, and that a total of $304,000,000 had been loaned to them. On these loans, the farmers have to pay 0 percent interest at present.

To balance this huge loan, the Federal Farm Loan Bank has sold bonds amounting to about $325,000,000. The difference in the money secured from the sale of bonds and the actual cash lent to farmers was made up from the slender capital on which the 12 Land Banks started—$9,000,000—and the profit on the operations of the banks.

Method Used.
 The feature which has tremendously popularized the farm loan system is the amortization plan of it, which is obligatory upon all farmers who borrow money from the banks. Thus, on each $1,000 borrowed, the farmer must return each year to the Land Bank from which he got it $65. These payments, which apply alike on principal and interest in the course of interest they pay for their loans.

The land banks have been so successful in their operations with the demands made at that time have been possible to pay a dividend of 6 percent to the National Farm Loan Association. This association is made up of the farmers who have borrowed money to carry on their business, and this dividend on the capital stock of the bank is distributed among these men as, in effect, a rebate on the interest they pay for their loans.

The National Farm Loan Association is made up of nearly 4,000 county farm loan organizations, and as there are but 2,800 agricultural counties in the United States, there is an average of considerably better than one organization to each farming county.

Before the board was created, there was a great deal of criticism from members representing the more prosperous agricultural states that the establishing of the loan system was intended almost solely for the poorer farmers of the south. This criticism was made at a time when southern senators and representatives headed nearly every committee in congress, and was a hard one to combat. The demands made at that time have been amply borne out by later developments, however. The state of Iowa, for instance, which saw little need of the Farm Loan Bank at that time, when its farmers could get all the credit they needed for 5 and 6 percent, is now the greatest patron of the Federal Land Bank with the single exception of Texas, which is a tremendously larger commonwealth.

The bonds sold to provide the funds to loan are issued largely at the discretion of the board. However, congress has retained certain powers, one of which is fixing the maximum interest rate the bonds can bear. The present legal limit is 7 percent. Also, existing law limits the difference between the bond interest rate and the

What Have We Done Today?
 (By Nixon Waterman)
 We shall do so much in the years to come.
 But what have we done today?
 We shall bring out gold in a princely sum.
 But what did we give today?
 We shall lift the heart and dry the tear.
 We shall plant a hope in the place of fear.
 We shall speak the words of love and cheer.
 But what did we speak today?

We shall be so kind in the after-while.
 But what have we done today?
 We shall bring to each lonely life a smile.
 But what have we brought today?
 We shall give to truth a grander birth, and to steadfast faith a deeper worth.
 We shall feed the hungry souls of earth.
 But whom have we fed today?
 We shall reap such joys in the by and by.
 But what have we sown today?
 We shall build our mansions in the sky.
 But what have we built today?
 'Tis sweet in idle dreams to bask, but here and now do we our task?
 Yes, this is the thing our souls must ask:
 "What have we done today?"

 "Oh, yes. He claims to be virtuous."

A New War on Him
 An editor of the far West dropped into church for the first time in many years. The minister was in the very heart of the sermon. The editor listened for awhile, and then rushed to his office.

"What are you fellows doing? How about news from the seat of war?"
 "What news?"
 "Why, all this about the Egyptian army being drowned in the Red Sea. The minister up at the church knows all about it, and you have not a word of it in your latest. Bustle around, you fellows, and get out an extra-special edition."—Tit-Bits.

The Newly Married
 Mrs. Youngblood thought the apples the farmer had brought her were rather dirty, but he explained that this was because they had fallen off the tree onto the ground—in short, they were windfalls—so she bought them.

A week later she called the farmer's wife up on the telephone. "I ordered the best cucumbers for pickling," she said sharply, "and you've sent me windfalls."

"Sent what?" gasped the farmer's wife.
 "Windfall cucumbers! I can tell; you needn't think I can't. There's dirt on them."

Greater than Daniel
 A Sunday school teacher in discussing the great men of the Bible with her class of small boys, said to them: "Now don't you think that Daniel was a very great man? When he was thrown into the lions den, he did nothing but pray and the lions never harmed him."

"Huh, that's nothing," said Johnny getting up from his seat. "When Daniel Boone let out a war-whoop and jumped into a bear's den, it was the bears who did the praying."

 "Jack has placed his heart in my keeping."
 "Well, you had better be very careful of it, my dear. He told me last week I had broken it."

A Good Recommendation
 A certain general had planted a vegetable garden in the rear of his quarters. He had tried several gardeners with more or less success when a former soldier, the owner of a profitable truck garden near the post, offered his services. The general engaged him, and in due course the garden looked flourishing, but few vegetables found their way to the general's table. As the end of the season approached the general began a quiet investigation and was immediately confronted with a resignation and request for a letter of recommendation. He was a kindly but very conscientious man, and the recommendation was as follows:

"This man succeeded in getting more out of my garden than any other gardener I have ever employed."

Q. Please give the characteristics of the different food groups.—T. M. A.
 A. Proteins are muscle-building foods; carbohydrates give strength or energy for work; fats give bodily heat; mineral salts regulate body processes and build up bones and other tissues; fat soluble vitamins promote growth of body; water soluble vitamins protect the body, preventing various diseases; water regulates blood and other body fluids, regulates temperature, carries waste away from body, and furnishes 60 to 70 percent of body weight.

Q. How long do trees live?—J. L. D.
 A. The Bureau of Forestry says that the average age of trees is between 200 and 300 years. There are trees in existence over 2,000 years old.

Q. What were the "Chesterfield Letters"?—W. R. G.
 A. The Chesterfield Letters were written by Lord Chesterfield to his son, Philip Dormer, for the improvement of his manners.

Q. How often does a riveting hammer strike?—J. H. N.
 A. Riveting hammers are made with 6, 8 and 9 inch strokes and the speed of the piston depends somewhat on the length of the hammer. The speed of the piston also depends on the length of the piston; the short piston running more rapidly than a long piston. These piston speeds will vary from 10 to 16 blows per second, or from 600 to 1,000 blows per minute. The faster speeds are commonly found in shipbuilding and car building plants and the slower speeds are found in boiler shops.

Q. What was the size of the arena used for the big fight?—E. B.
 A. The arena of the arena used for the Dempsey-Carpentier fight was 900,000 feet.

Q. Please give a brief sketch of Alfred Nobel, donor of Nobel prizes.—G. A. S.
 A. Alfred Nobel was a Swedish inventor and philosopher born October 21, 1833. His education was gained in Petrograd to which city he went with his father, when Alfred was yet a child. From 1850 to 1854 he studied mechanical engineering in the United States. In 1857 Nobel invented dynamite. His inventions filed in Great Britain totaled 129. He maintained a great laboratory at San Remo, near Nice, at which place his death occurred December 10, 1896.

Q. Is it necessary for an engineer to guide a railroad engine, or does the engine guide itself?—E. R.
 A. The engineer does not guide the engine. The front wheels of an engine are the guide wheels and the track determines the direction taken.

Q. My father moved to Texas in 1858 when there were only 25 miles of railroad in the state. How does Texas stand now?—D. R. S.
 A. Texas leads all states in the mileage of railroads. This, excluding sliding and yard tracks, was 15,509 miles in 1914.

Q. How is menthol produced, and in what is it soluble?—H. L. T.
 A. Menthol is a colorless crystalline substance obtained from official oil of peppermint or from Japanese or Chinese oil of peppermint. It is but sparingly soluble in water but dissolves in considerable quantities in alcohol, ether, chloroform and other organic liquids.

 Mr. Greene: You surely remember me. I hold your I. O. U. for $10. My name's Greene.
 Mr. Frobbroke: Pardon me for not recognizing you, Mr. Greene. I'm color blind.

Neatly Expressed.
 Dan was the sort that whined whenever he couldn't have his way. His brother, Avery, got out of patience with him one day and exclaimed to his mother: "Tunt kid is the most disagreeable one of the family, and everybody knows it but him."

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

By W. G. SIDLEY

St. Paul a Married Man
 The Apostle Paul has long been regarded as a bachelor, a conclusion given force by his restrictions upon women in the early Christian church, and certain caustic admissions to them. But this ablest and most eloquent of New Testament writers seems not only to have been a married man but a father as well. His wife and child both died before his conversion to Christianity from the Jewish faith, in which he was a devout believer and a strict Pharisee.

In his "Life and Letters of St. Paul," recently published in this country by the George H. Doran Company, Dr. David Smith, a professor of theology of Londonderry, Ireland, in a college of the Presbyterian church, takes the view that Paul was a widower when he became a Christian. The facts leading to this conclusion are interesting and convincing. We summarize them as follows:

To the Jews marriage was a sacred obligation, and eighteen years the proper age for it. To reach twenty years unmarried was held to be both a calamity and a crime. It is not probable that Paul, whose attachment to the Jewish religion was so great that he persecuted Christians as a religious duty, failed to obey the commandment of the Law of faith. Indeed, there are undisputed facts which seem to prove his marriage and his fatherhood. He was a member of the high court of the Jewish Sanhedrin. To be a member of that body one had to be not only married, but a father. This seems conclusive that Paul was a widower when he became a Christian, perhaps after an unhappy wedlock.

Cooking in the Home
 A hotel steward said to be known from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and for forty years an observer of people who eat in public dining rooms, is reported as saying, at a convention of public food purveyors that "American women have forgotten how to cook. The gentleman speaks without knowledge of facts."

We may excuse him only because he has been peevish up to public eating places for so many years that he has lost all sense of proportion and lacks facts for comparison. American women have not forgotten how to cook. Their good, wholesome, well prepared food, for home dining rooms feeds and feeds amazingly well, eighty percent of the population. So general is good home cooking that every man forced by circumstances to get his meals at public places, regards himself as unfortunate because he cannot always eat at home, or at somebody else's home. This hotel steward is full of misinformation.

A Thoughtful Chinaman
 The Chinese minister to England was in a London club one day when a member thoughtlessly made a remark about the social condition of women in China. An embarrassing silence followed for a moment, when another subject was taken up.

But presently the minister, addressing the critic of the treatment women receive in China, said: "This is a very beautiful club you have here. 'Yes,' said the Englishman, 'I believe it is the finest.' 'Much finer than your private homes,' suggested the minister. 'Certainly,' was the reply. 'I suppose you have your women here,' remarked the Chinaman; your mothers and sisters and wives and daughters?" "Why no. They are not allowed here at all."

"Where?" asked the minister. The reply is not recorded in the London publication, that tells the story, but the embarrassment was shifted.

A street salesman on Columbus Circle had a book on acrobatics to sell the other night. "The average person is incapable of concentration," he told the sidewalk crowd. "I am here to cure worry and sleeplessness," he said; "go home and announce to yourself that you will stay awake all night and you'll be asleep in thirty minutes." Some people are just contrary enough for that. But he sold his little books. Why? Because he stimulated the noodles of his audience. Make a man think and he's your meat.

Ambassador Harvey played golf in his shirt sleeves one hot afternoon in England recently. All the Englishmen on the course wore hot, heavy golf jackets. The British have their conventional dress and no hot sun can rob them of their formalities. But Harvey prefers comfort.

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, July 23.—In those sweetly scented little avenue shops with spindly-legged chairs and a great expense of mirrors, where the proprietress, Miss Maggie McGuffey, has become plain Mme. Yvonne L'Amour et Cie, a great effort is being made to make the husband who goes shopping with his wife feel at home.

Thus in one democratic little bazaar—where they boot hubby's purse something fierce—they provide a soporific in the way of a room with a market ticker. Here husband may smoke, while the dirty work is going on. There are even cubes of ice with tall glasses in case he has anything on his hip. At this shop incidentally Milady may be shod for $60. Of course, that is the cheapest and the pieces run on up to $85.

In case the wife selects a half dozen pairs of shoes—pardon, boots—it is easy to see they could furnish a room and bath and throw in a massage for good measure. Or to boot, if one cared to pun in these serious times, The shops welcome husbands. It is purely a matter of business psychology.

In the presence of such grandeur, bulwarked by haughty, languorous saleswomen, the poor boob is frightened stiff and he wouldn't think of halting a sale to his wife. But if the wife went home to consult him with the bad news the wall would arouse the neighborhood—husbands are that way. And that's a couple of thats.

In the frock shops and the millinery establishments they treat a husband like the court ladies would a dauphin. The mannikins—and they are always easy on the eye—crowd about him, laughing heartily at every little thing he says. He begins to suspect he is a comedian and no doubt has visions of appearing in musical comedy saying "Girls, out to Paris!" he does not realize that when he leaves they snicker and wonder "how she ever married such a sick looking prunc."

On the magnificently engraved invitations of a shop sale they are now placing the line "Bring Your Husband." Very few men can withstand the flattery of such establishments. How do I know? I've been nicked, boys, but don't cheer. The shop keepers know this and they are profiting largely by their wisdom.

A fearful young matron was pacing up and down the arway in front of a basement office of a building in West Forty-Eighth street. A sign on the door read: "Doctor Out!" Here was a dilemma indeed. And my sympathy for her was unalloyed when I looked on the office window and saw in gilt letters: "Cautious Specialist."

Worth Knowing.
 Every housekeeper knows that in a small household where only one or two servants are kept, several ones over Sunday mean a great deal of work—manual labor for the domestics and head work and responsibility for the hostess. If things are to go smoothly and hospitality is to be perfectly expressed somebody has to get to do a deal of thinking and preparing beforehand and this somebody is, naturally, the housekeeper and hostess.

 Johnny, who was more proficient in the art of wheeling the baby buggy than in the selection of his progeny, became tired of being called so often to perform this duty. So when mamma summoned him in the midst of an exciting game of tag he relieved his mind thus: "Now, mother, what's the world comin' to? Ever since that baby got here it's been nuthin' but 'Johnny, wheel she' all the time!"

Peculiar Flint Rock.
 J. C. Oliver of Woodstock, Vt. has a white flint rock somewhat smaller than a man's fist. Through one end of it is an irregular hole smaller than a lead pencil, caused by a vein of iron which had rusted out. The long root of a dock plant has grown through the hole, filling it solidly and extending some distance in the ground beyond.

RUSSIAN GENERAL WHO DUPED CZAR ORDERED TO GO

Gen. Sukhomlinov.

According to word from Berlin, Gen. Sukhomlinov, the Russian general who is said to have duped the czar into signing the Russian mobilization order of the Russo-Japanese war in 1904, has been asked by the czar to leave Dresden. The Socialists of police there issued the request. Sukhomlinov was convicted of high treason and sentenced to life imprisonment, being released later by the Reds.
